Why is this man riding? Because he's hooked on Hillclimbing, and he's bringing the sport to Wilberforce. For story, see page 5.

BIA study approved

The Minden Business Improvement Area executive is slowly closing in on its dreams for improvements to the downtown core.

The group has received a commitment from Minden municipal council of $5,700 to finance a study for major beautification projects in downtown Minden.

The study, to be carried out by the consulting firm of Totten, Simms and Hubicki, will provide estimates for carrying out many of the major recommendations contained in the recent architectural study (CAUSE) carried out in Minden in June of this year.

BIA executive member Stu Brandon presented a report to council at a meeting last week, outlining terms of reference for the study. Among the architects' recommendations to be addressed in the study are improvements and extensions to sidewalks; feasibility of closing Newcastle Street; improvements to the intersection at Milne Street and Bobcaygeon Road; improvements to the intersection of Milne and South Water streets; and extensions to existing parking lots.

The $5,700 price tag for the study is the result of an estimate prepared by Gord Crosbie of Totten, Sims and Hubicki. According to Brandon, $4,000 will go towards the Milne Street portion of the study alone, which will include plans for a civic garden at the intersection to Bobcaygeon Road.

Brandon told council he was optimistic about the planned projects. "We have a plan of action that the architects have outlined, and everyone in the community seems to be in agreement with it. If we accomplish all of it gradually in the next fifteen years, it will be great," Brandon said.

The study will also examine the possibility of wider sidewalks for Main Street in Minden, as well as proposed extensions as far north as The Sunrise apartments on Bobcaygeon Road and the Red Cross Hospital near Highway 35.

Brandon said following the meeting that he expects the study to be carried out over the next several weeks.

Red Cross Hospitals to twin with Peterborough

Red Cross Hospitals in Minden and Haliburton will soon be annexed to the Saint Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough, following a decision by the Red Cross Steering Committee of the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District Health Council.

The move was announced August 11 at a public meeting held at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden. The decision by the 11 man steering committee marks the end of over one year of debate on the future of the two Red Cross Hospitals in Haliburton county.

Some two hundred people filled the gymnasium at Archie Stouffer School to hear the findings of the committee, which was formed by the District Health Council in June 1981 after the Red Cross announced it was ending its involvement in hospitals in the province.

The "twinning" arrangement with Saint Joseph's will mean that the two 10-bed hospitals will be administered by the 25 member Saint Joseph's Board of Trustees. Two members from the communities of Minden and Haliburton will be appointed to serve on the Board. The hospitals were formerly run by the Red Cross central office in Toronto.

The agreement was reached at a meeting between Red Cross representatives and St. Joseph's trustees held July 7 at the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

District Health Council member Jim Swanson, who chaired the Wednesday meeting, stressed to the group that services offered by the two facilities will not be affected by the administrative change. "The intent is not to divert services out of the area," Swanson told the group during the one and one half hour session. "The role of St. Joseph's will be a management and supportive one," he said.

Although several people attending the meeting expressed fear that the level of service at the hospitals would change, Dr. Blair Pierce of Haliburton confirmed Swanson's view of the twinning move. "The role of our hospitals will not change. Our services will continue in their present form," Pierce said.

He also added that the Haliburton facility would continue to provide obstetrics service.

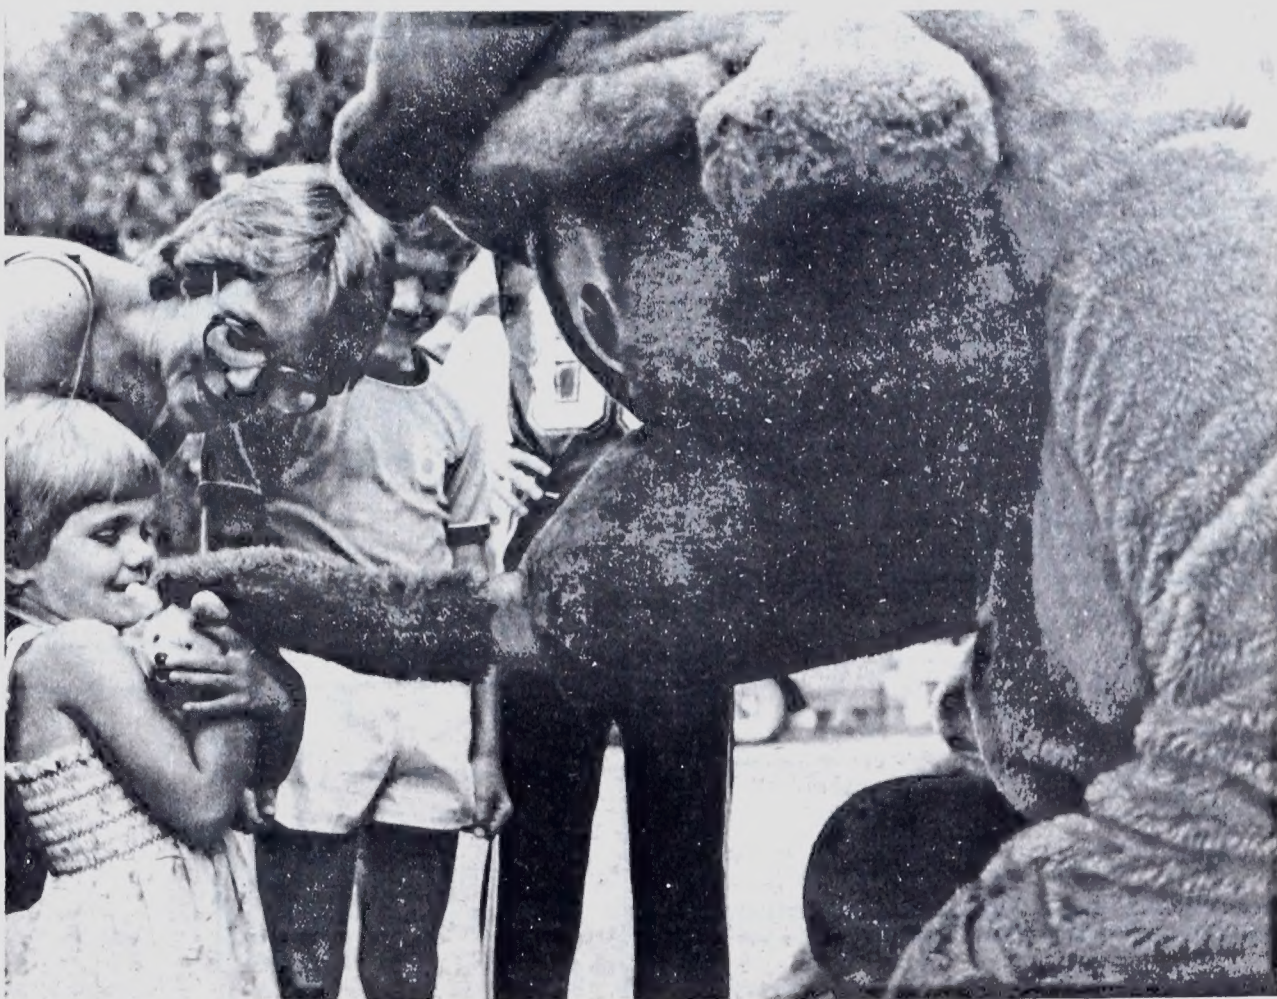

Although Swanson told the group that the details of "day to day management" had not yet been worked out with officials at St. Joseph's, he explained that, under the terms of agreement between St. Joseph's and the Red Cross, the Haliburton and Minden facilities will be overseen by St. Joseph's Board of Trustees with full arrangements to be worked out by the Board, the Red Cross and the Ministry of Health in coming months.

The Ministry of Health had earlier ruled out a proposal that would have seen a single board established to oversee Red Cross hospitals in Minden, Haliburton and Bancroft.

Swanson also said that all practising physicians at the Red Cross facilities will automatically become members of staff at St. Joseph's and will be accorded all privileges of regular staff members.

The move to seek a new administrative system for Red Cross Hospitals in Ontario began in the summer of 1979, when the Red Cross announced in conjunction with the Ministry of Health, that the operation of Red Cross Hospitals had become uneconomical and would be phased out over four years. After the formation of the Red Cross Steering Committee, trustees of hospitals in both Lindsay and Peterborough were approached by the committee, but only St. Joseph's agreed to negotiate a twinning arrangement with the Red Cross.

Trustees with Peterborough Civic Hospital and Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay turned down the offer to negotiate with the committee.

Red Cross Regional

Chairman Jim Burton said following last week's meeting that he is pleased with the new arrangement for the hospitals. "I think the hospitals in Minden and Haliburton will be far better off after this move is complete. When it comes down to facts and figures, it's by far the best move for the two facilities," Burton said. "We'll have access to all the best equipment at St. Joseph's. For the ten physicians we have now, we'll have 70 doctors for consultation."

According to Burton, the names of the hospitals will not change. He also said that final arrangements for the move may take several months to complete.

St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough is a 211 bed acute care facility established in 1890 by the Sisters of St. Joseph, an organization which still owns the hospital.

Council abandons road closure plans

Objections to the closing of Twelve Mile Lake Road near Hart Lodge are being raised by cottagers in the area, and Anson, Hindon and Minden council has now resolved to abandon the closure procedures altogether to seek other means of solving the 11-year old controversy between the municipality and the owners of Hart Lodge.

Some 20 cottagers from the Twelve Mile Lake Cottagers Association attended a meeting of Minden council last week to voice their objections to the closure, which would affect 854 ft of roadway in front of Hart Lodge on Highway 35. The municipality has tried repeatedly to close the road since 1971, but has been thwarted by protests from cottagers who say the closure would be inconvenient.

Twelve Mile Association President Jim Sampson told council Wednesday that the owners of Hart Lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford, are outnumbered in the dispute. "There are 91 cottages affected by the proposed closure, and each one represents three to four hundred dollars in taxes per year," Sampson told Minden councillors. "There is only one tax payer, Hart Lodge, in favour of this move. It's the rights of one versus the rights of 91," Sampson said.

Sampson also suggested that the municipality negotiate with the Crawfords over compensation for the land used to build an alternative route to the Hart Lodge portion of the road, a route running south of the lodge built by the municipality.

Councillors later agreed with the group's proposal.

Herb Ireland of the Trent Severn Waterway's Haliburton office also attended the meeting to explain his position on the proposed closure. Ireland told the group that officials from Trent Severn system use the road for access to the dam, and that they must continue to use it. "We use the road three or four times a week. It's up to you how we do it, but we have to have access to that dam," Ireland said. He added that the legal and real estate advisors with the Trent Severn system were "up in arms" when they learned that the municipality was again attempting to close the road.

Acting on a suggestion from the cottagers' group, Minden councillors also reviewed the original agreement between the Crawfords and the municipality. Most observers at the session agreed the contract had been fulfilled.

According to the contract, signed by the Crawfords and the township in November 1971, the municipality would build a road on Hart Lodge property to replace the Hart Lodge road adjacent to the dam, on the condition that the bridge over the dam be closed. Councillors and cottagers agreed that since the contract made no mention of the road itself, and since the bridge was declared unsafe and closed by the Ministry of Transport in the early '70's, the municipality had lived up to its terms.

The Crawfords have since opposed that stand, however, and councillor Lyle McKnight suggested a verbal agreement had been made which went beyond the terms of the written document.

"I think we have a moral obligation to the Crawfords to seek some kind of settlement," McKnight told the group. "A verbal agreement was made; they gave the municipality the deed to the new road and the municipality agreed to try and close the old road."

Eileen Crawford of Hart Lodge told The Times Monday that a verbal agreement was in fact made. "The intent of the township council all the way through has been to have that road closed," Crawford said. "We assumed we were dealing with them in good faith, but we were naive. We should never have trusted elected officials," Crawford added. When asked if she felt the municipality had lived up to its terms of the agreement, Crawford replied, "Definitely not."

While there is no end to the dispute in sight, Minden council has moved to abandon procedures to close the road. Councillor Ed Pergolas told the meeting that since the municipality had met all written terms of its agreement with the Crawfords, the objectors' views should prevail. "We've considered this application on the basis of the agreement. We should treat it like any other closure, and we have a lot of people against it," Pergolas said.

Pergolas agreed with cottagers to pursue an offer of compensation for the new road to the Crawfords, but Eileen Crawford would not say whether she would discuss the possibility with the municipality. "I can't tell you we'll negotiate a settlement for the new road," Crawford said. "I don't know what will come next," she added.

Housing grant received

Staanworth, the Joint Municipal Non-profit Housing Committee formed this year by Stanhope, Minden and Lutterworth municipalities to oversee the construction of a new non-profit housing complex, has received its first grant from the provincial government, and the group is now poised for formal incorporation this fall.

Committee chairman Ed Pergolas told a meeting of Minden council last week that the $3,000 grant will be used for the initial developmental and administrative costs incurred since the work began to form the group earlier this year.

Pergolas said the money will officially be transferred to the committee as soon as incorporation proceedings are completed this September.

Construction of the complex is expected to begin as early as this fall.

Grass seized

OPP officers seized 92 marijuana plants and charged a 33 year old man with possession following a search of a Dysart Township home last week.

Acting on information received by the OPP's Minden headquarters, Constable Dennis Potter went to the Dysart home August 11. A search of the property revealed the plants growing in a small greenhouse.

David Kay has been charged with possession of a narcotic in connection with the case.

Debate continues on Sunday store hours

The debate over Sunday store hours continued at Minden council last week, but there is still no solution to a problem that is pitting convenience store operators against larger supermarkets in the area.

The debate centres on the Minden Red and White store, which has opened Sundays for several months, and Mike's Milk store in downtown Minden. While Red and White owner Mike Easton would like to see all the merchants in the village open Sundays, Mike Vuksic of Mike's Milk fears that such a move would put him and other convenience store operators out of business.

The two men attended Minden council last week to discuss the repercussions of the Red and White's new Sunday hours. Vuksic told council that the opening of the Red and White store may force Dollo's I.G.A. to follow suit, a move which he says would be disastrous for his business.

"I'm not worried too much about competition from the Red and White," Vuksic told council, "but Pete (Dollo, of Dollo's I.G.A.) is right next door, and if he opens, I'll be finished," Vuksic told council.

Vuksic's wife Clara, who operates Mike's Milk along with her husband, was more adamant about the effects of Red and White's Sunday hours. "There is no way we compete with you," Mrs. Vuksic told Easton at the council session. "We survive by opening Sundays, and you don't need that business. All we want is our nights and Sundays," Mrs. Vuksic said.

Pete Dollo, meanwhile, says he is undecided about whether or not his store will open Sundays in response to the new Red and White hours. "At the moment I'm not sure," Dollo said in an interview Monday. "I'd prefer not to see it, but if forced to, I will open," Dollo said.

Despite Vuksic's pleas,

Easton told council that his store will remain open Sundays, even if a new municipal by-law forces him to limit floorspace at the store. "We're intending to stay open, and I'll rope off the store if I have to," Easton said.

The by-law, which was drafted in 1981, limits stores open Sundays to a maximum floor space of 1500 square feet. The document was shelved the same year when both the Red and White and Dollo's agreed not to open Sundays, but Vuksic is now pressing council to bring the by-law into effect.

Reeve Lloyd Walker told the meeting that he would not like to dictate store hours. "I don't feel it's fair for a council to dictate which hours a store can be open," Walker said. Councillor Ed Pergolas agreed with Walker's stand. "It's difficult to try and legislate against store owners," Pergolas told Vuksic adding, "Personally I'd like to see everybody open Sunday."

Stanhope receives grant

The township of Stanhope is one of three municipalities in the province to receive community planning study grants from the provincial government this year, it was announced recently in Toronto.

Stanhope will receive

$7,320 from the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing this year, funds which are intended to aid in the preparation and updating of official plans, zoning bylaws and other planning documents.

The grants can also be used for special studies on specific local issues, such as core area development, lakeshore development, or commercial development along highways. Energy-conserving measures may also be financed by the funds.

Puppet theatre coming

After a successful tour of the region earlier this year, the Deckhands are returning to Minden.

The three-member puppet theatre group will be performing August 26 at the Minden Library and Cultural Centre with two more plays for children.

The Deckhands, who are sponsored by the Lake Ontario Regional Library System, will be performing "Anansi and the Box of Stories" and "Eeyore has a Birthday". "Anansi" is based on an African legend, and relates the spectacular adventures of Anansi, the extraordinary spiderman. "Eeyore" is well-known to readers as a famous character of A.A. Milne's. In the birthday story, Pooh and Piglet create a happy birthday celebration for their friend.

The three performers, Morag Thornton, Karen Vaneyk and Anna DeVries are all students from Kingston, Ontario, and work under the direction of program coordinator Catherine Chisholm.

The Deckhand's performance begins at 3 p.m. at the Library and Cultural Centre, August 26.

A new era

Minden and Haliburton are soon to see the end of their Red Cross Hospitals. While the twinning of the two facilities with St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough is an occasion for some sadness, since it represents the end of an era in medical care, it is clearly a positive step, and one that all residents of the county should feel confident in supporting.

As Red Cross representatives and members of the District Health Council have pointed out, the move is the best alternative for the two hospitals. St. Joseph's General will offer Haliburton county patients and excellent referral service, that will make available for consultation the seventy doctors on staff at St. Joseph's. County doctors practising on staff at the Red Cross hospitals will automatically become staff members at St. Joseph's, an arrangement that will give the ten doctors involved, access to all facilities at St. Joseph's. The Red Cross hospitals will also gain the advantage of the buying power of St. Joseph's which will bring supplies and equipment into the county at a much lower cost than is currently borne.

Perhaps the most important point is this: Services at the hospitals can only improve through association with the Peterborough hospital.

The twinning agreement between the Red Cross and St. Joseph's was not reached without a considerable amount of work from citizens, of the area. A ten-member steering committee, made up of citizens, administrators and members of the medical profession in the area, began work on the deal in June of last year and examined a number of alternatives before negotiating the arrangement with St. Joseph's directors this summer. Committee members deserve hearty thanks for the work this arrangement represents.

Red Cross Regional Chairman Jim Burton has suggested that "there won't be a dry eye in town" when the sign at the Red Cross hospital in Minden comes down sometime in the coming months and he is probably right. The Red Cross hospitals in the county, originally established as outposts in 1922, have provided a vital service to communities in the area and done so with great efficiency and a kind heart. However, the new twinning with St. Joseph's is an important and progressive move.

We can look forward with as much pride to the future as we look back on the past.

A six per cent world

by Bill Scott, M.P.

The current Liberal administration has decided, in their wisdom, that the only solution to the recession crippling our economy is their 6% world of controlled public service wages and prices.

They are urging the private sector to follow their lead and institute 6 and 5 per cent wage increase limits. On the same day they announced the great new world of 6% Bell Canada applied for increases of 25% and 35% in their residential and business rates. Mr. Fox, the Minister of Communications, quickly said that Bell would be an exception to the guidelines. In other words, the new world would not be for everyone. Luckily due to concerted efforts by the Parliamentary Opposition and an outcry by the public the Cabinet was forced to change its mind. Bell must now live in the same world as the people it serves.

Unfortunately, as we found out after June 28th, Bell was not the only price setting company that this Government felt must be above the 6% world. When questioned in the House of Commons whether the oil prices set down by the National Energy Program would be limited to 6% the Minister of Energy declined to respond. We will be forced to pay much more than an additional 6% for energy supplies at a time when wages can only rise by that amount.

It seems that some companies will be more equal than others. This has been further confirmed by the Government's action in giving loan guarantees of $34 million to bail out Malsin Industries Ltd. Whether or not these guarantees were obtained legitimately or through influence peddling by officials of the company, as has been claimed, it is clear that they put this company in an advantageous position with respect to their competitors. It is understandable that senior civil service officials in the finance and industry departments recommended the assistance not be approved.

The Enterprise Development Board which traditionally must approve such loans would not even consider the request, as the firm was felt to be too high a risk. Cabinet decided they knew better than their officials what companies deserved loan guarantees.

In the same vein, this week Defence Minister Gilles Lamontagne was asked why he has just moved the headquarters of Canada's naval reserve to Quebec City, where he once was mayor, from Halifax. His explanation was that the Government wants to attract more Quebec francophones into the reserve. Apparently, according to Mr. Lamontagne, it was not convenient to Quebec francophones to have the naval reserve in Halifax. He said, "It is a long way to go home for holidays". I am sure the residents of Quebec must feel slighted that the Minister would use them in such a feeble excuse for playing politics with our Navy. Constituencies represented by Cabinet Ministers obviously qualify to be part of the more equal group of Canadians. This same logic was illustrated in the announcement on July 28 by Lloyd Axworthy that 33 constituencies have been singled out to receive additional retraining funding under the Canada Community Development Program. It was no coincidence that 32 of the 33 are represented by Liberal M.P.'s. The Cabinet's decision to consider joining the Airbus consortium may create many new jobs in Liberal held Quebec constituencies, but what they are not saying is that it may cause the loss of many jobs in non-liberal held ridings in Ontario and Manitoba. This is another case where liberal held ridings are considered more in need.

While this Liberal Government may brag of its caucus solidarity, it must get down on bended knees and apologize for its inconsistency, cor-

The red-eyed vireo is a bird that demands superlatives, not that this common resident of Ontario woodlands is the most brightly-coloured, or the most beautiful, or even the most visible of birds. In this case, the superlatives arise from the vireo's song, which is repeated more frequently than any other North American bird.

In fact, an Ontario vireo has made it into the record books, since it was tallied as singing 22,197 songs during a 10 hour summer day! This persistence, coupled with the short emphatic phrases of its song, has earned the red-eyed vireo the nickname of "preacher bird", in an unflattering reference to lengthy sermons. Drifting down from the upper canopy of mature woodlands, the vireo's song is actually a series of short phrases, sounding like "you-see-it-you-know-it-do you hear me? - do you believe it?"

Even with its song, which continues right through the hottest days of summer, a vireo is hard to spot. A small greenish bird with olive underparts and a white eye-stripe, the red-eyed vireo is only the size of a chickadee. While the adults seem to spend all their time in the treetops, they actually nest fairly close to the ground, with a cup-like nest suspended from the fork of a sapling or shrub. Here again the vireo is a bird of superlatives, for red-eyed vireos are the species most commonly parasitized by the cowbird, and a pair of vireos raising several young cowbirds is not unusual.

During their migration to and from the Amazon basin, vireos are silent, and therefore almost invisible. But in the long days of summer, the cheerful questions of the red-eyed vireo are never far away in a deciduous woodland.

Hillclimbing comes to Wilberforce

A World Champion Hillclimber and a Wilberforce landowner are bringing world class hillclimbing to Haliburton County, and they have less than two weeks to do it.

Standing chest deep in water, John Williams works intently on his dock at his Clear Lake cottage. A lanky man with a sideways grin ambles down the dock towards him with a proposition for the World Champion Hillclimber; he has a hill he'd like John to look at.

That was four weeks ago, and today on the property of Bill Thomas near Wilberforce, a huge swathe is cut out of the side of that heavily wooded hill. Five hundred feet of motorcycle hillclimbing track are nearing completion, and Thomas and Williams are two weeks away from the opening ride of the Canadian Championship Class 'A' Hillclimb.

Organizing an event of this magnitude in only six weeks seems impossible, especially when the track was still a quiet wooded hillside when the work began. But both Williams and Thomas are optimistic that the event will be a success, and they're already eyeing the possibility of two events for the hill next year.

As far as Williams is concerned, it is the spirit of the community of Wilberforce that will carry the day. And as the current World Champion hillclimber and an addict of the sport for 22 of his 43 years, Williams speaks from experience. "I've put on five hillclimbs in Ontario, and I've never had such a good feeling about an event," explains Williams, his black cowboy boots dusting over as he surveys the Wilberforce hill after a steep climb to the top. "There is a feeling that the whole community is behind this hillclimb, which is something I've never experienced in all my years in the sport," Williams adds. "When the people in Wilberforce get behind something, they really get behind it."

A remarkable transition

Thomas' property has indeed undergone a remarkable transition in the past four weeks. After the dockside conference at Clear Lake, the two men spent several hours combing the hill on Thomas' property. Finally arriving at the best location for the track, Thomas put the bulldozers to work, building a road into the site and beginning the considerable task of clearing the 100-foot wide swathe 500 feet up the side of what is now known as "Mount Williams" (a name the rider chose on a whim when asked by a Toronto printer for a location more specific than Wilberforce).

Williams is really quite excited by the potential of the track. "The composition of the hill is good," Williams remarks. "It's sandy with loose loam at the top, which makes for an interesting climb. The riders will be losing and gaining traction all the time, and they'll have to reposition themselves on the bike constantly to cope with it." Amazingly, though, no one will have been up the hill on a bike until the initial ride of the competition August 29.

The machines of Class 'A' hillclimbing are not exactly typical dirt bikes. Explains Williams of the class 'A' motorcycle. "We take the bike from the factory, remove the engine, throw away the frame and build a whole new machine. This kind of class is a mechanic's dream; he can change the frame, change the engine, do anything he wants." According to Williams, the 40 riders he expects will attend the event will ride Triumphs, BSAs, Harleys and Yamahas, all of them vertical and 'V' from twin cylinder engines. The machines run on nirtomethane, the fuel that powers dragsters, formula 1 cars and rockets, and most of them weigh in at under 300 pounds. Williams himself will be riding his Honda 500, the "STP Special" he takes all over the continent on the circuit each winter. He'll also be demonstrating a 6 cylinder machine he and mechanic Nick Kemp have been working on for some time.

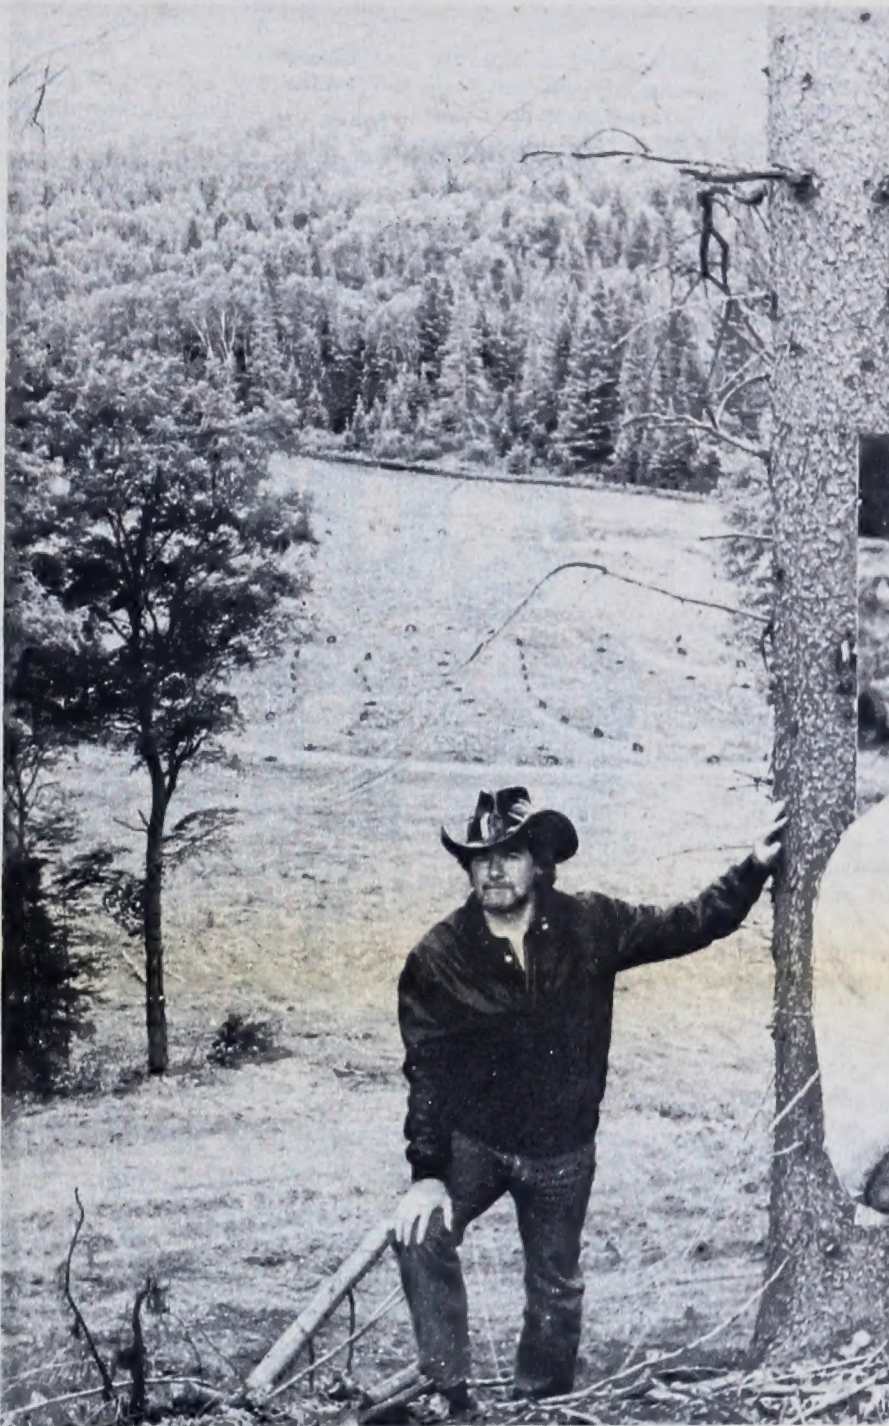

The bikes will reach speeds of 80 miles per hour on the 60 degree grade, finishing the course in the neighbourhood of six seconds. Electronic timers at the start and finish will record elapsed times in graduations of one one-thousandth of a second. Riders will have only two attempts at the hill.

Running bikes on straight nitro is not without its hazards. While most riders in the United States run their machines on a nitro/alcohol mixture, Williams' Hondas run "straight out of the barrel", on 100 per cent nitromethane. "The only danger is starting the engine," Williams says of his choice of fuel. "If there is half a teaspoon of nitro in the cylinder when you start it, it will blow up." Williams' six cylinder exhibition bike, which he will ride in Wilberforce, has already suffered that fate once, though thankfully, Williams says, in the relative safety of his backyard at home in Markham. And the danger of nitro is not without its price. At a cost of $40 per gallon, for nitro, five exhibition rides on the bike in Wilberforce will cost $100.

Williams and Thomas have staked a lot on the Wilberforce hillclimb. Because the event was organized on such short notice, no major sponsors could be found, and the two men have financed the venture, including the $3,000 prize purse, themselves. What was once a quiet meadow on Thomas' property now sports a motocross track, which Thomas hopes to have certified in time to join the circuit next year. Concessions will be hopping during the event, and the competition will be orchestrated from an announcer's booth at the site. The two are already planning both the Canadian and Ontario Championships for next year, and will be talking with Molson's as possible sponsors. "I've been looking for a home for the hillclimb," Williams says, "and I think I've found it."

Photos and story
by
David Swail

John Williams atop the Wilberforce hill named in his honour. The finished hill will end some thirty feet higher than Williams' hat. Insert: Wilberforce landowner Bill Thomas takes a break from feverish work on the track.

Is hillclimbing dangerous? After 22 years in the sport, Williams has a round-about, but very clear answer. "I've broken both thumbs, both big toes, my right foot, my left ankle, and my nose three times. I split open my breast bone once and broke three ribs on my left side. In Ornell, New York I hit a tree at 70 miles per hour and my pelvis is still 14 centimetres out on one side. In 1978 I hurt my right shoulder so badly I thought I'd never ride a bike again. I spent six months in therapy at Scarborough General, and I could still barely lift my arm above my waist." That same year though, with characteristic mania for his chosen profession, Williams recovered to win the world championship, breaking a hill record at the final event of the season in the process.

Despite the fierceness of his sport, Williams is an articulate, well-spoken man, and not blind to the seeming madness of his love for hillclimbing. "I give it my all when I go up a hill. I love the sport, and I try to be as safe as I can. You'd think a fellow would have a little more sense after a while but once you get into his sport, it's hard to get out."

If all goes well for Williams and Thomas on August 29, Williams may be riding in Wilberforce for many years to come.

For years now the "Shoulder Seasons" have been like the weather -- everyone talks about it but nobody does anything about it! Well, finally something is being done about the fall season, to encourage better use of the facilities available and create more tourist traffic. Two important new components have been developed to attract fall visitors, the Harvest Festival and a schedule of colour bus tours.

The Harvest Festival, as reported in last week's papers is the brainchild of Art Ward and has met with enthusiastic support throughout the county. The two weekends prior to Thanksgiving, when colour is traditionally at its peak, will feature an ethnic event on each of the four nights at each of four locations. It has brought together the Haliburton Rotary Club, the Stanhope Firefighters Assoc., the Minden Figure Skating Club, the Recreation Committee of Glamorgan and the Chamber of Commerce in a joint effort that should be good for the county and its many fall visitors.

The second component is reaching the final stages of preparation and should also substantially increase the enjoyment of our beautiful fall season. The Chamber has arranged with Northernways Transit Ltd. to provide local colour tours that will include many of our featured points of interest. A full day tour will be available on Tuesdays and a half day tour on Thursdays at a cost of $10.95 and $4.95 respectively. The full day tour includes the provision of lunch at the Nordic Inn in Dorset and the half day a stop for tea or coffee and biscuits at the Chatterbox overlooking Twelve Mile Lake Falls.

Both tours will pick up and return passengers centrally at Minden and Haliburton. The project is a pilot program that if as successful as anticipated will be operated throughout the summer season next year. It is anticipated that a lot of support will be provided by resort operators who may include the tours in their fall packages.

In order to tell the world of our fall features we will be taking advantage of the C.O.T.A. full page advertisement which will once again appear in the Toronto Star on September 11. Advertisers in their mid-summer feature found it very beneficial and we are looking for good participation from members again. Deadline to reserve space in the co-op ad is August 27 and copy must be provided no later than September 3. For more details call the Chamber office at 286-1760.

New M.T.R. consultant

Our area has been without the services of a Tourism Consultant from the Ministry since the resignation of Bruce Potter in the spring and we were therefore very pleased to be advised, and to meet our new representative in the person of Mike Wallace. Mike assumed his duties as of August 4 and spent a few days in our County last week catching up on the backlog of work which has accumulated for him. Mike has a strong background in the hospitality industry and is equipped to provide many of our members with a good deal of assistance. We look forward to working with him, and he looks forward to meeting many of you.

It was fun to be in Minden

On Friday the 13th when superstitious souls hide indoors, many Minden merchants did the opposite. Participants from both downtown and the surrounding area lined the curbs with merchandise and displays for the day and the event was topped off by some Dixieland music on the lawn of the Bank of Commerce. It was fun for everyone and worthwhile to all who participated. It was marred only by the fact that a few chose not to participate and they were conspicuous by their absence. It is hoped that the exercise will be repeated and that more will now be convinced to join in for mutual benefit. Jack Brezina deserves a hearty thank you and congratulations for his considerable efforts on this event.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society was, at the same time, holding their third Annual Flower Show at the Community Centre with some incredible displays of their talents on exhibit. Awards were distributed on Friday and we must say their entire group deserves an award and a great deal of credit for making Minden and the surrounding area so much more attractive with their displays.

As we said, it was fun to be in Minden on Friday, and when you can make coming to town fun, it's good for the town and good for business.

County Fair Weekend

It's County Fair time again this weekend in Minden. Because Minden is the County Seat, and the fair grounds are located in Minden much of the organization and preparation of this event falls on residents of that town but we must stress that they do it on behalf of the County. The County Fair is one of the few events of the year that involves the entire County, and we urge county wide participation in it.

The Fair gets underway on Saturday morning and the big parade will roll down Minden's main street at Noon. Following the official opening at 1:00 p.m. the Fair Queen will be named and the horse show will begin. The Grandstand show and the evening dance will both feature Harold McIntyre and "Area Code 705". The ever popular Horse Drawing event takes place at 4:00 p.m. on both Saturday and Sunday. There is also a midway, dog show, livestock shows, run and ride race, talent contest, 4H displays, pony pull, and a horseshoe pitching contest. See you at the Fair!

ruption and mismanagement. As it has no intention of doing so, you and I must make them realize they have lost the confidence of the people. I urge everyone to write to Mr. MacEachen and the Prime Minister and tell them how their policies are affecting you. They work for you, it is time they took direction from you.

Editor:

While visiting near Minden - a drive to Pike's Peak gave an interesting, splendid view of Minden and surrounding country - a pity it is not advertised or described as one enters Minden.

J. Russell,

Editor:

I would like to congratulate you on the great success of "Friday 13th".

The sale was enjoyable for shoppers, and profitable for merchants, and the entertainment provided by the presence of the 'SMURFS' and the 'DIXIELAND AMBASSADORS' lent a festive air to a day which is traditionally associated with unpleasant fears.

I hope this activity will be repeated in the future, as it is a wonderful way to spend a summer's day, and could also serve as an annual tourist attraction.

Congratulations again, it was a great day!

Sorry, Mac!

Last week's issue of The Times featured an article on the early life of hydro line workers in the Minden area, in which it was mentioned that Mac McCarey finally retired from Minden's Ontario Hydro office as area foreman.

Buzz Godin informs us that Mac actually worked in the capacity of Area Manager, before retiring in 1970. Our apologies to Mr. McCarey.

COME OUT WITH YOUR IDEAS.

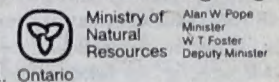

At the Ministry of Natural Resources, we have to be a lot of things to a lot of people. That's why we want to hear your ideas.

We've compiled draft district land use strategies which recommend the many ways Southern Ontario's natural resources ought to be managed. And with forests, fish, wildlife, mineral resources, provincial parks, marshes, recreational areas, waterfronts, and lots of dry land to consider, that can be a pretty wide open area.

So we want you to tell us what you think. To make it easier, we're sponsoring a series of Open Houses, in districts all across Southern Ontario, giving you the chance to come out and tell us how you feel about what we have in mind.

YOUR INPUT IS A VALUABLE RESOURCE. NATURALLY, WE WANT TO USE IT.

CONTACT YOUR LOCAL DISTRICT OFFICE OF THE ONTARIO MINISTRY OF NATURAL RESOURCES FOR MORE INFORMATION; TO CONFIRM DATES, TIMES AND ADDRESSES OF OPEN HOUSES, OR IF YOU ARE UNABLE TO ATTEND AN OPEN HOUSE BUT WISH TO COMMENT ON DISTRICT LAND USE STRATEGIES. A warm welcome to the Haliburton County Fair! Every effort has been made to provide a variety of events and displays to make this one of the best ever.

The Fair was established by County by-law in 1874, and should be recognized as over a century of co-operation and fellowship of all municipalities within the County. Congratulations to the Committees who have made this possible.

Competitors congratulate one another after a hard fought game at the Minden diamond. The game was one of 22 held in the Rockcliffe Invitational Fastball Tournament on the weekend. The Haliburton team emerged atop the field of teams, winning four games on their way to the first place finish.

Haliburton and Minden advance

Haliburton and Minden Dixie Lee came out on top of their series in Ladies' Softball action last week to advance to the league finals. Haliburton squeaked by a strong West Guilford team 20-19 Monday night, to take their series three games to two, while Dixie Lee handled the Minden Juniors team in four games with a 16-7 win.

The West Guilford team bounced back from a defeat to even the score against Haliburton in Ladies' Softball 'A' Series playoffs last week.

West Guilford handled the Haliburton team by a score of 8-6 on strong performances from Michelle Rosenberg and Cheryl Cooper. Haliburton was led by Betty Whiteway and Wendy Roberts. Joan McKay led West Guilford from the mound, while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

In the 'B' series the Minden Dixie Lee team wrapped up their series against the Minden Juniors with a 16-7 win. The victory gave the Dixie Lee team a three-one win in games against the Juniors.

Dixie Lee was led by Barbara Barnhart in the win, with strong performances coming also from Marlaine Wilson and Helen Burke. Nelda Cully held the mound for Dixie Lee for a full seven innings, while Cheryl Dillon and Andrea Burk combined their efforts from the mound for the Juniors without success.

Dixie Lee will now take on Haliburton in league finals. Meanwhile, in the consolation series, Carnarvon came on strong against Wilberforce in a last ditch effort to stay alive in the playoffs, but lost out 13-11 to retire for the year.

Wilberforce took the series in a three-game sweep, but had a lot of hard work to do to finish off Carnarvon in the final match-up. Wilberforce's Gail Krupa had a strong night at the plate for her team, going five for five with five hits in five at-bats. The Storey sisters, Chris and Lynn, were also strong for Wilberforce.

The final game between Haliburton and West Guilford was the most exciting of the week. West Guilford opened with a hot streak, getting eleven runs in the first inning for what looked like a strong lead. Haliburton, however, responded with seven runs of their own in the bottom of the first and came back with another nine in the second to go up 16-11.

The two teams went back and forth throughout the rest of the game but Haliburton came out on top by a one run margin, 20-19. Betty Whiteway, Miriam Smith and Kim Roberts led the Haliburton team. Cheryl Cooper and Michelle Rosenberg were strong for West Guilford. Nancy Maughan had the win for Haliburton while Joan McKay took the loss.

The final series between Dixie Lee and Haliburton begins tonight at 9:00 in Haliburton. The second game will be played Monday night in Minden.

Haliburton takes tourney

In an action packed weekend at the Minden ball park after 22 games were played, the boys from Haliburton came out on top of the heap.

The final game, which was a real thriller, kept the crowd on their toes right from start to finish. In the end the local team from Haliburton narrowly defeated last year's champion, Toronto Cavaliers, by the score of 2-1. The Consolation Championship was won by Drive Tavern from Toronto as they beat Bobcaygeon by the score of 11-4.

The tournament was blessed by the weather man as hot sunny weather brought out the best in the ball players and as a result the spectators watched top notch ball all weekend.

Perhaps the game which brought the most excitement was the game Saturday afternoon between Haliburton and Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers. This was a classic match as Jim Chilvers pitched a no-hitter for Haliburton while Brad Scott pitched a two hitter for the Hustlers. It was a tough loss for Minden as both Haliburton runs were unearned.

The Rockcliffe team would like to thank all the teams who took part, the Umpires, the fans who attended, and special thanks to the people who helped out in many ways.

Game scores as played:

First Round: Minden 3 - Norland 2; Haliburton 11 - Turbo 0; York Tavern 10 - Bobcaygeon 6; Type-Hi Printing 7 - Domtar 2; Woodrow Auto 5 - Ashley Motors 0; Toronto Cavaliers 6 - National Drug 0; Maynooth 5 - Drive Tavern 4.

Firefighters learn rescue techniques

"Extrication, if properly conducted, is an art." So begins the standard notes for a course on automobile extrication given by the Office of the Fire Marshall, and twenty fire fighters in the county, after a week of sweat and toil, would undoubtedly agree.

The twenty fire fighters were part of a five-day course offered by the Fire Marshall's Office in Minden last week. The group, which included fire fighters from every department in Haliburton County, spent forty hard hours learning the intricacies of auto extrication, the procedure used to remove injury victims from damaged automobiles.

The week began with preparation and lectures at Minden's Fire Hall. Ken Jones, an energetic instructor with the Fire Marshall's Office in Owen Sound, grilled the men on techniques and equipment before turning them loose Tuesday at Brown's Auto Yard to try things for themselves. The five-day course in Minden was just one of many Jones gives throughout the province every year, hauling the unique equipment of the auto extrication art along with him in a large yellow rescue van. Bill Wilson, Fire Services Advisor for Haliburton County, was also on hand each day, to oversee the work.

On Thursday Brown's Auto Yard looked like a giant had gone mad with a can opener. Junked cars, which were more or less intact before the arrival of the fire fighting students, lay with roofs peeled back, like sardine cans, door posts entirely cut through, steering columns protruding through the windshield, and a host of other configurations that attest to the power of the special hydraulic tools that Jones and Wilson provided for the men's use.

Jones carries a number of highly specialized tools with him on the road. Hydraulics is the force behind the amazing capabilities of the equipment. At Brown's yard on Thursday, Jones demonstrated a hydraulic jack, connected to a small gas engine by twin hoses that give the tool enough muscle to make head room for a man of six feet in the front seat of a neglected Impala. Hoses and couplings, chains and come-a-longs, and hydraulic cutters and spreaders were used by the twenty men for a variety of extrication procedures, from popping and removing doors, to severing door posts and removing roofs.

The twenty students spent their three days at Brown's in full rescue equipment, including helmets, coats and boots, and as the sun beat down most of the three days, the course was a strenuous workout for the men.

Since rescue is the prime objective behind auto extrication, attendants from the Minden Ambulance Service worked with the students to share their knowledge of patient care. Bill Wilson was particularly pleased with the contribution of the ambulance personnel. "The fire fighters got a lot of good information from the ambulance people," Wilson commented during a break in the action at Brown's last week. "It's important to develop a rapport between the two groups, so that the men involved can reach an understanding of the problems peculiar to each job. I think we've done that quite well during this course, and both Ken and I are very pleased with the results," Wilson said. Minden Fire Chief Deac Jackson was also very pleased with the results of the course. "The men have worked very hard on this, and I think they've all learned a tremendous amount. Jones has done a tremendous job with them," Jackson said.

At the end of the five days' training, the twenty fire fighters, most of them staff from the previous day's training, gathered at the Minden Fire Hall, where they received certificates marking their successful completion of the course. The new certification will become a helpful criterion for municipalities seeking grants to buy the special tools of the auto extrication trade for their fire departments.

The course was well received by the students and fire department personnel throughout the county, and has provided municipalities with a valuable training for fire fighters.

The twenty fire fighters were also very pleased with their work on the course, and though they may take some time to recover from some tough afternoons at Brown's, they will be thankful for the experience should the occasion arise to test their knowledge of auto extrication.

I intend to stand for council.

(Anson, Hindon & Minden Township)

- Our retail business community must react to customer needs at three levels.
- For some customers The "Highway by-pass" is a momentary convenience stop.
- For others, Minden is a relaxing village excursion.
- Yet others rely upon outlying shop-owners scattered throughout the townships.
- All three business groups deserve council's full support.

As a member of council I would propose that:

- (1) The BIA strategy for village development be endorsed as the priority new-works project for the coming term.
- (2) The by-pass be anchored to the village core with a pedestrian boardwalk extending past the Beaverbrook Golf Course to a mini park at the turning-circle, and likewise south to Minto Marine.
- (3) Consideration be given to a future extension of the boardwalk parallel to Hwy. 35 - providing a triangle of pedestrian traffic accented with craft stalls, mini park-sitting areas, etc.
- (4) A "front door, welcome to Minden" theme be established along the by-pass.
- (5) Workshops with outlying shop-owners be organized to study the potential for an association, group purchasing, selective marketing, modular inventory control etc.

A Business Community Is Exactly That.
A Community.

Stanhope air show draws hundreds

The Stanhope Air Show proved to be another outstanding success this year, drawing a big crowd to the Stanhope Airport Sunday for a demonstration of air planes, antique cars and the remarkable Austrian Lazair.

The weather was perfect for this year's event. Cars lined the air field and the concession stands did a booming business. The Jeff Barry Band provided country and western music and a fiddle demonstration for the show.

Perhaps the most amazing demonstration was that of the Austrian-built Lazair, a one man plane built of aluminum and powered by twin seven-horsepower engines. Two Lazairs circled the air field for nearly half an hour Sunday, dazzling spectators below.

An armed forces helicopter also gave a remarkable display of agility in manoeuvring during the afternoon. The craft flew in front of the gallery at great speed, rising sharply, dipping, swinging and hovering for several minutes.

A glider was also featured at the Stanhope event. Towed at considerable height over Maple Lake before its performance, the glider floated to the ground in front of the crowd, performing graceful loops in a display of silent flight unique among the many aircraft featured at the show.

A World War One biplane was on hand Sunday, as were a number of remote controlled model planes which gave a stunning display of agility at high speeds.

A Lazair floats over the Stanhope airfield during the annual Airshow Sunday. The Austrian built machine is powered by two seven horsepower engines.

Spectators gaze skyward as a glider descends after being towed from the runway and released over the airfield.

The Setting

The one thing that grabs your attention as you enter The Riverside Inn is the ornately carved bar and cashier booth. Restaurant owners, and your hosts for a delightful evening, Joan and Peter Hancock, have received many compliments about the fixtures, and a number of very lucrative purchase offers, offers they've all politely declined. So, when you visit The Riverside Inn in Norland, you'll be able to enjoy these quaint additions to the atmosphere.

However, as you settle in, you'll discover there are many other things to add to your dining pleasure. The quaint olde English stylings are reflected in the many interesting artifacts that fill every nook & cranny. It's a pleasant, warm atmosphere - relax, enjoy.

Joan and Peter take pride in preparing their dishes in true European tradition. Nothing is pre-cooked, to be left standing for hours prior to your arrival.

They also make their own soup at The Riverside Inn and the pie you'll enjoy for dessert is made on the premises too.

The menu is extensive at The Riverside Inn. Choose from a selection of seafoods, steak, chicken, ham and pork or try the specialty of the house, the 14" shishkebob. If you're looking for a delicious lunch we suggest The Riverside banquetburger, it's a meal in itself.

Before or after your meal at The Riverside, take in the view just across the road. A small, neatly manicured park at the river's edge provides a great setting for diners. Or, try the swing just outside the front door.

The Riverside Inn in Norland is open 9 a.m. to 11 p.m., seven days a week during the summer. Reservations are advised, particularly on the weekend. The restaurant, which is fully licenced, is open year round (closed November 15 to December 3) and snowmobilers and cross-country skiers are welcome. During the winter they are open 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. weekdays and 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Major credit cards accepted. Call 454-1045.

Cottagers support canoe museum

by Danny Copeland

On Saturday, August 14, the shareholders of Echo Bay Parkland Ltd. held their annual meeting.

Prior to the meeting, the Board of Directors met to discuss the issues to be introduced to the shareholders.

The first of two issues concerned an application for building a two-storey boat house 15 feet from the high water mark. Current by-laws prohibit (a) the erection of an auxiliary building that is two stories high, and (b) the construction of any building within 50 feet of the high water mark.

The application was made by a summer resident to the Committee of Adjustment who informed all adjacent land-owners of his intent. The Board of Directors of Echo Bay Parkland Ltd., opposed the application on behalf of the shareholders.

The Committee denied the cottager the right to build the two-storey structure, but gave him the option of applying for a single-storey structure in the same location.

The second issue brought forward was that of the Kawana International Canoe Museum. A concerned cottager, Mrs. Joan Copeland, brought several facts concerning the Museum to the attention of the meeting.

The collection, founded by Kirk Wipper, is presently located on property adjacent to Camp Kandalore. The Museum, a vital link to the world's canoeing past, is the only one of its kind existing in the country, and is one of the most extensive collections in the world.

It contains specimens dating from the original dug-outs found in and around the Canadian lakes, to the modern kayak and canoe.

This Museum, a piece on piece log building, nestled in the woods of Haliburton, is a perfect setting for the collection.

This Spring, the Ontario

Provincial Government released an Interim Consultants' report suggesting that the collection be moved to the Campus of Trent University in Peterborough.

Many local residents and organizations have already objected to this move.

It was decided that Echo

Bay Parkland Ltd. would send a letter (possibly along with a financial donation) to the Editor of the Minden Times, who will properly forward all such letters. It was unanimously decided to not only send a letter, but to also request the support of various other Cottagers' Associations in the area.

Agricultural report

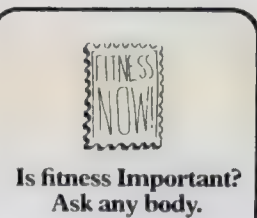

We, as employees of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food, are concerned about not seeing farmers practicing crop rotations. We both know that tile drainage is a must on most farms but even adequately drained soil will not continue to respond to soil compaction caused by lack of rotations and tilling soil when it is too wet. For instance, a large tractor with a 30-foot cultivator can damage 150 acres of wet soil in a single working day.

Also, some people claim their tile drains have quit working after five years of continuous corn. In most cases the tile drains are in excellent condition - it is the soil that has quit working.

With respect to installing a drainage system, it certainly pays to install the system when the soil is dry. If you install tile in the very early spring or in November and December, the chances are the contractor is working under adverse conditions. When the soil is wet it is being severely compacted with the heavy drainage equipment.

The alternative is to tile through the standing crops. Actually you will gain much more than you appear to lose. Research in Great Britain and Europe has proven that it pays to drain through a crop when the soil is in better condition.

Remember, it is our responsibility to be good stewards of the soil. The top four to six inches of our land is a natural resource - there is no synthetic alternative.

SALE DATES — AUGUST 18 to 28, 1982.

After a fifth place finish last year, Highlander Barry Hicks is on his way to the Canadian Waterskiing Championships in Halifax this weekend.

Cottager competes in Canadian championship

A 14 year old water skier, who makes the Haliburton Highlands his summer home and training base, will be travelling to Halifax this weekend to compete in Canadian championships. If he is successful, 14 year old Barry Hicks, will become a member of the Canadian national team.

This is the second time Barry has advanced to the national finals. This young skier, who competes in the junior division, took part in Canadian competition last year where he placed fifth. He's looking forward to a stronger finish this weekend.

Barry gained a berth in the national competition by competing in three provincial contests, each adding to his points standing and acceptance at the Canada-wide meet. In late July Barry grabbed first place in his division in the Ontario Water Ski Championships for the second year in a row. The competition was in Welland. He placed first in the tricks division and despite a less than top slalom performance, still managed to emerge first overall.

Barry, who lives in Mississauga when he is not at the family cottage on Boshkung Lake, began water skiing at the age of five. He started competitive skiing at the age of ten. His collection of trophies and medals attest to his abilities, topped off by his back-to-back Ontario championship wins.

The Boshkung Lake cottage gives Barry an ideal spot to police his competition routines. Each day the young skier slips into his skis and heads out onto the water for six training sessions. Each session lasts about 15 minutes. Spaced out through the day to help ease the strain, Barry practises an hour and a half daily. (Earlier this month he was sidelined with an ankle sprain and cold, but he expects to be ready for this weekend.

Barry comes from a water skiing family. His parents, Jim and Carol Hicks, both ski, his brother Bruce won the Canadian Men's Slalom record a year earlier. Two other brothers, Brad and Bill, both ski, Bill having been part of the water ski show at the Canadian National Exhibition. A sister, Cindy, can also be seen skimming over the waters of Boshkung Lake.

Barry, who will be entering grade nine in September, is looking forward to the competition this weekend. We wish him well.

Juvenile fiction

Title: Five Bushel Farm.
Author: Elizabeth Coatsworth.

This tells of how Andrew Patterson was taken by Mr. and Mrs. Titcomb through some of New England in pioneer times and he later joined the Hallet Family. This tells of how their pioneer farm got its name. An excellent junior book.

Juvenile non-fiction

Title: Alligator Pie.
Author: Lee. 821.08.

This is a book of Canadian Verse for parents to read to children and really should not be missed. Sometimes it is more entertaining for the parent who is doing the reading!

Adult fiction

Title: The Dancing Floor.
Author: Michael M. McNamara.

In his latest novel, Mr. McNamara offers a totally new insight into what is happening today in Ireland from the viewpoint of the Irish people themselves.

The Dancing Floor is the story of two brothers and their involvement with the IRA Provisionals in the city of Limerick in the Republic. One brother, Brendan, is an idealist in the classic Irish tradition, deeply engaged in the movement as a gunman, in the historic line of Irish rebels, caring passionately for Ireland and the Irish people and the Irish past. The other brother, Colum, is a bored intellectual. He is far more detached from people than is Brendan, and he resists involvement in the movement. But soon he too is drawn into the action by a malevolent manipulating force working beneath the surface, which operates not only on him and on his brother but on the entire organization and has no interest whatsoever in people or people's needs or in Ireland or even in the movement itself.

In a vulnerable land filled with violence and hatred the two brothers act out their convictions. The Dancing Floor is a compelling and original novel whose characters loom large.

Adult non-fiction

Title: The World Rushed In.
Author: J.S. Holiday.

This book deals with the California Gold Rush. The letters and diary of Wm. Swain of Youngstown, New York, tells of the preparations for reaching the gold fields and their day to day experiences. It discusses the effort and their ingenuity in recovering the gold from the streams and of their homesickness and their successes.

by Bert Harrison

A real nice service in the chapel Sunday night. The Petit family entertained us, and did the job just right. Harold Thompson welcomed our guests, and led us in prayer, then our guests took over from there. They played, and sang, so beautifully on organ and violin. To tell you all about it I'd hardly know where to begin. Now here is a family who live religiously. This is something we like to hear, and see. We thank them for coming to us at Hyland Crest. To this talented family we wish all the best.

Watched real interesting movies Monday night. "You had to see it to believe them." They were a lovely sight.

Rev. Wicks of Minden Gospel Church took the service on Tuesday morning, August the tenth day. He spoke on, Jesus said, "I am the life, the truth and the way." We thank Mrs. Taylor for coming to play.

We thank the Fearries for entertaining so nicely again -

Everett, and his daughter Terri-Lyn.

We welcome back Edith Welch, and Carrie Jones. They have been away, since I don't know when.

Wednesday night was games night. We had a lot of fun. I'd better not tell you who lost or won.

Two afternoons a week the ladies are working. I don't know just what they are doing, but their jobs they are not shirking.

Each Thursday afternoon, here at Hyland Crest, a group of ladies bring a lunch and serve it up the best. It was the Baptist ladies from Kinmount brought a lovely lunch today. Edith thanked them nicely, before they went away.

We have fun and fitness four times a week. This is the place to be, if exercising you seek. You will benefit by this if you're a willing pupil. The exercise you seek will keep you nice and supple.

Thursday night is bingo night here at Hyland Crest. Members of the Kinsman Club put it on, and give it of their best.

Friday at noon, we had a bar-b-que and a party for two ladies, who are "bidding us adieu". Muriel Welch, who looked after all our dough, and Roberta Walker who looked after all our clothes. They received some lovely presents, including beautiful cups and saucers, and to each a purse of money from the residents here. We are going to miss them. They were held most dear.

There have been many visitors to the Home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Earle Redner this afternoon, my sister Pearl, and her daughter, Ruby to lunch with us at noon. We also had some very dear friends drop in, Henry and Muriel Copp. I could keep on going, and wouldn't know where to stop. We also had a visit from Mickey and Minnie Mouse. When we went up to supper, they ran all around the house.

This Friday afternoon Grace and Norma came along to play, and lead us in singing. Grace read an interesting story of a boy who had cancer, and what he endured, but they think now he is completely cured.

I am sorry to report that Mrs. Elsie Plum is not so well, but glad to report that Mrs. Ida Schell has returned from hospital, and Mrs. Ethel Boice is making good progress.

Grace sang: Christopher Robin, coming down stairs,

Stopped half-way down to say his evening prayers

In the garden of God's blessing

There are flowers sweet and fair, and among them bright with beauty,

Is the Friendship that we share.

Note:

(1) Fixed Assets

The historical cost and accumulated depreciation of fixed assets are not reported for municipal purposes. Instead, the "Capital outlay to be recovered in future years" which is the aggregate of the principal portion of unmaturing long term liabilities and the cost of capital projects not yet permanently financed is reported on the "Balance Sheet". The one exception to this policy is the Sewage System, which in accordance with its service agreement with the Ministry of the Environment, does not require the inclusion on the Balance Sheet of the "Capital outlay to be recovered in future years". The water treatment rate charged by the Ministry of the Environment includes the related debt retirement costs.

GENERAL NOTES

(1) The 1981 Financial Report consolidates the operations, assets and liabilities of the Townships and the following municipal enterprises and local board:

- Minden Waterworks System
- Minden Sewage System
- Minden Business Improvement Area

(2) Municipal enterprises are those activities whose costs are substantially recovered from service charges on users. The only municipal enterprise of the Townships whose revenues and expenditures have been excluded from the financial information highlighted above is the Minden Cemetery.

(3) The financial highlights presented have been basically extracted from the audited 1981 Financial Report of the Townships and its municipal enterprises and local board as described in Note 1. The terminology contained in the Financial Report has been modified and expanded in order that you might appreciate more fully the nature of our operations.

(4) Copies of the 1981 audited Financial Report and the report of our auditor, Gary L. Thurston, Chartered Accountant, are available from the Townships' Treasurer for any resident who wishes to review or analyze the financial operations of the Township in greater detail.

QUESTION: "Can I upgrade my Education through correspondence courses?"

ANSWER: During 1980-81 more than 80,000 Ontario residents participated in the program of free elementary and secondary correspondence courses offered by the Ministry of Education.

Correspondence Education services are free and fall into three main categories:

1. Lessons and other learning materials are provided to students who enrol in either elementary or secondary correspondence courses.

2. Evaluation of students' lesson assignments, encouragement, and tutorial assistance for students are provided by qualified teachers.

3. Advice for applicants and enrolled students in such matters as course selection, diploma requirements, career planning, and post-secondary educational opportunities is provided by counsellors.

Counselling can be obtained by writing, telephoning, or visiting Correspondence Education, 909 Young Street, Toronto, Ontario M4W 3G2.

The toll free number for Haliburton County is 1-800-268-7065. A list of courses are available for the current year and can be obtained from the Haliburton County Information and Referral Centre, Drag River Municipal Building, Box 956, Haliburton. Phone 457-2733, Monday to Friday, 10:00 a.m. - 2:30 p.m.

Rules governing farm employees

Several farmers have recently asked us about the various regulations governing the hiring of employees on a farm.

The Ministry of Agriculture and Food has two good factsheets on this subject. One is entitled "Paying Wages to Farm Employees", and the second one is titled "Family Members As Wage Earners". Copies of these are available free from any County Agricultural Office.

In this report, I'll try to briefly mention a couple of the main concerns farmers have.

The biggest question is regarding minimum wages. There are two different answers to this question.

There is NO minimum wage for persons employed on a farm to help produce eggs, milk, grain, seeds, fruit, vegetables, maple products, honey, tobacco, pigs, cattle, sheep or poultry.

However, a person who is employed in the harvesting of fruits, vegetables, or tobacco must be paid at least the minimum wage. The minimum wage at present is $3.50 per hour, or if the employee is a student under 18 years of age, the minimum wage is $2.65 per hour.

The other main area of concern deals with unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, etc.

The rules governing these plans vary somewhat.

Workmen's Compensation must be paid by every farmer who has employees; regardless of how old they are. A member of the farmer's family or a relative, is considered to be an employee, if a stated wage is being paid. This does not apply to a farmer's spouse.

Unemployment Insurance must be paid by both the employer and employee. There are a few exemptions - those which could affect a farmer are if the employee is 65 years old or over, if the employee is a dependent of the farmer's or where the employee works less than 25 days per year, or receives less than $250 in cash payment in a year.

Canada Pension Plan deductions are made for all employees except those under 18 years of age, or over 70 years of age. Again, a farm employee who works less than 25 days a year or receives less than $250 cash payment in a year is exempted.

Every employer is to deduct income tax from an employee's wages. Free room and/or board is a taxable benefit, so must be given a value which is included in calculating the tax deduction.

If an employee completes a TDI form, certifying that their total income for the year will be less than the basic personal exemption, then income tax deductions do not have to be made by the employers.

When a farmer employs his own children he has to be aware of how much they earn, depending on their age, as it could affect whether or not they will still be classed as dependents.

Winners of the St. Paul's Anglican church draw on August 15 were, first Gary Freeman of Richmond Hill, who won the Tackle Set, second prize of a Coleman stove went to Rick Mansfield of Minden and third prize, a sleeping bag, went to J.W. Watts of Dorset.

Friends will be pleased to know that Mark Vasey who was confined to St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough, has been moved to Minden Red Cross Hospital and is doing nicely.

The success of the Minden Horticultural Society's Flower Show, held recently on the 12th and 13th of August, is mainly attributable to the efforts of the Lacey family, Jean, Jeunne, Clifford, Carol and David, all of whom worked extremely hard to ensure a good exhibition. Many local people joined in and assisted wherever needed. However, the burden of responsibility rested on Jean Lacey and her family. Therefore the people of Anson, Hindon and Minden and all visitors are most grateful to all the participants for the beautiful show.

Reg and Muriel Welch of Ivanhoe Lodge (Folyett) are spending the week at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Davis.

A very happy birthday and many happy returns to Eliza Chambers of Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, who celebrates her birthday on Thursday, August 19.

I am sorry to report the passing of Mrs. George Elstone of Haliburton and Mrs. Hudson Smith, formerly of Minden, who resided in Peterborough, last week. Our deepest sympathy to their families and friends.

Colin Hewitt spent Saturday with his mother Mrs. Joyce Hewitt.

There was a lovely farewell tea last Thursday afternoon at St. Paul's Parish for Mrs. Joan Waters, who so ably assisted Father George Elliott at St. Paul's Church this summer. Mrs. Waters was presented with a spoon with a picture of St. Paul's on the handle in appreciation for all her help.

Blake Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes spent the weekend in Minden.

Robert Hughes who underwent surgery last week in St. Joseph's Hospital in Peterborough, is recovering nicely and returned home on Monday.

I am sorry to report that Morgan Trumbull is confined to St. Joseph's Hospital and Glen Richardson is in Civic Hospital in Peterborough. All their families and friends wish them both a speedy recovery.

Robert Hughes' cousin, John Hooper from Ottawa, visited with the Hughes over the weekend. Edna McCowen, Bob Hughes' sister has gone to Ottawa for a visit.

Mary Cox is at present visiting in Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Ball of Fort Erie, visited with the Jack Austins for a week.

Gerry Campbell who has been ill for the past three weeks is convalescing nicely and is well on the mend, I am happy to report.

The Pentecostal Church in Alsaw was the scene of a very lovely wedding last Saturday when Danny McKelvey and Debbie Clark were united in marriage. The bride was attired in a floor length dusty rose chiffon gown with matching handkerchief shawl. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Danilko stood up for the bride. Mrs. Danilko was attired in a street length gown of burgundy. About eighty guests attended and following the ceremony, they all retired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake, where a delicious buffet supper was served. The happy bride and groom were seated under an arbour decorated with pom poms and wedding bells which formed a lovely setting. Among the guests attending was Mrs. Jack Davis who is 93 years of age. It was a beautiful day and a beautiful wedding and we wish the bride and groom all the very best.

Mr. Douglas Walker, son Michael and friend Rett of Toronto, visited his mother, Mrs. Elmer Harrison of Maple Lake on Sunday.

Tom Stephen is home from Etobicoke General Hospital after undergoing surgery, and is convalescing nicely. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. William Stuart, from Cameron, visited Mrs. Verna Jarvis this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bumby from Barry's Bay, visited with Mrs. Freida Harrison at the Sunrise Apartments for a few days.

Visitors with Mrs. Mary Windover at the Sunrise Apartments this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patterson of Woodville, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd King of Lindsay, Mrs. May Hazelton of Oshawa and Mrs. Violet Baker of Rosedale. They also called on other visitors in the village.

Congratulations to my youngest son Douglas who recently won two golf tournaments at the Garden City Country Club on Long Island. Doug received a trophy and fifty dollars worth of equipment. Next week he leaves for Germany for Lufthansa Airlines.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sisson of Lindsay visited with Mrs. Taylor Kernohan over the weekend.

A sumptuous pot luck supper was held Sunday, August 15 at the Zion United Church Educational Building. More than 150 people of the Minden, Carnarvon and Maple Lake congregations met to honour the retirement of the Reverend Douglas and Mrs. Miller. The Millers are leaving for their new home at 28 Rhine Court, Brampton, Ont. on August 27.

Following supper, Mr. Bob Herlihey chaired the program, Mrs. Lorne Coburn led a sing-song which was followed by three trios from a group from Carnarvon singing several selections. Grace Coburn sang May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You. A member of the three congregations, a summer resident, and a visiting clergy, all brought testimony of the compassion and concern shown by Mr. Miller, not only for his congregation, and the community, but for the world at large. He was interested in all the churches in Minden.

He spearheaded the Vietnam refugee fund, and still stayed in touch with those we sponsored. He had us write Iran, Bangladesh for Amnesty International.

Lately he had a collection taken to help the families in England, whose members had lost their lives in the Falkland Islands. A guest book was signed by all present and given to the Millers. A beautiful fluted porcelain dish, made in Haliburton, was presented to Mrs. Miller, and a purse of over $2000 was given to Mr. Miller in appreciation of their work in this area.

Mr. Miller is not completely retiring. He will take the service once a Sunday in a very old church on Highway 10 and Britannia Road. Our deep gratitude and best wishes to them both in all future endeavours.

A great deal of interest is being shown in the current exhibit at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery in the Minden Cultural Centre, the theme of which is "As It Was Then", based on memorabilia of Minden and vicinity around the turn of the century. It is well worth viewing and I encourage everyone to take advantage of the show. Tickets for the quilt raffle, done by the Weavers Guild are selling extremely well. The beautiful quilt is on display at the Gallery.

Hi Kids! Well summer is surely passing way, it's fair time again and that means fall is close behind.

I hope you've had a good summer. We were hoping to see our little friends from out west when they came to visit their grandpa, in fact I haven't heard from them since the spring. I hope they got my cards, and maybe we'll see them next year.

Here are some 'Conundrums'. A Conundrum is a stupid question that's so almighty stupid it needs a stupid answer. Like this:

What is the animal that has the head of a cat, and the tail of a cat, and the ways of a cat, and yet isn't a cat?

A kitten

What animal would be likely to eat a relative?

An ant-eater

Why should soldiers be rather tired on the first day of April?

Because they've just had a March of thirty-one days

Name the longest word in the English language.

Smiles. There's a mile between the first letter and the last

What is it that you cannot hold ten minutes, although it is as light as a feather?

Your breath

Twizzlers

If you can say these without making a mistake you're saying them too slowly.

A tutor who tooted the flute Tried to teach two young tooters to toot;

Said the two to the tutor, "Is it harder to toot, or To tutor two tooters to toot?"

Knott and Shott fought a duel. Knott was shot and Shott was not. It was better to be Shott than Knott.

Six brave maids sat on the bed braiding broad braids. Braid brave maids!

A big black bug bit a black bear. Where is the big black bear the big black bug bit?

Bye for now. Take it easy. God bless till next time.
